The Sugar Maple located closest to the building entrance is showing signs of decline due primarily to "girdling roots". At this point, this is not correctable. Fertilization might prolong its useful life. The same thing can be said about the Norway Maple closest to the south drive. I believe removal at this time is premature. Following is a cost for fertilization which should be done every other fall.
